

Outdoor Entertaining Is Finally Back

Get Ready in High Style for a Great Season

As the warmer weather approaches, homeowners want to spend more time outdoors. And today more Americans than ever are taking advantage of backyard living and entertaining. In fact, the American Institute of Architects reports that virtually every new residential architectural plan includes an outdoor living space.

And with this explosive growth in the outdoor living category from fully loaded outdoor kitchens to multi-functional outdoor living rooms, outdoor furniture has become an important part of the equation.

When it comes to outdoor furniture it's worth investing in selections that are specifically designed and manufactured for the outdoors. Good money can be easily wasted on so-called weather resistant décor, as all outdoor furniture is not the same. True outdoor furniture is designed and crafted to temper all kinds of outdoor weather conditions and made to withstand potentially damaging UV rays and moisture. There are also distinctive differences in the quality of the materials used to manufacture outdoor furniture.

Before staging and decorating your outdoor space with new seating, lounging and dining arrangements, this may also be a great time to enhance the outdoor leisure spaces you now have. With so many materials, styles and colors available, your imagination is the only limiting factor in an updated design plan. For example, in decks alone, there are now many options to choose from, including composites, exotic hardwoods, PVC, vinyl, cedar, and that's just the top deck surface. Beautiful and protective railings now also come in literally hundreds of styles to reflect the atmosphere you are looking for.

The good news for West Portland residents is that now you only have to make one call to get it all. In addition to designing and building stunning outdoor living spaces of all shapes and sizes, professionals can outfit the entire space with premium outdoor living woven furniture and accessories from Casuwel™.
